

BENJAMIN LEGBANDT

Policy Analyst II

Ben Legbandt joined Orange County LAFCO in 2007 as a student intern. In his current position as Policy Analyst II, Mr. Legbandt is responsible for research and analysis of city and special district annexation and reorganization proposals. He also manages the agency's geographic information system (GIS) and mapping services.

In 2005, Mr. Legbandt received an undergraduate degree in Political Science with a focus in American Politics from the University of California, San Diego. Mr. Legbandt also earned his Master's Degree in Urban and Regional Planning from the University of California, Irvine in June of 2008.

Mr. Legbandt was raised in the City of Long Beach, has traveled extensively throughout the world, and has a genuine appreciation for local and regional issues presently affecting the Southern California region.